Patisserie Royale

Patisserie Royale began producing fine quality desserts and cakes back in 1998 in Dublin city centre. The company was founded by Derek Cowley and Kevin Murphy, who with many years of experience between them, brought substantial knowledge of the industry.

Since then they have consistently grown their client base and increased the product range to serve demand and in 2006 moved to larger premises in the newly built South City Business Park in Tallaght, South Dublin.

They now produce a wide variety of handcrafted pâtisseries from cheesecakes to gateaux, tarts, pies and mousses, both large and individual, along with a luxurious range of assiettes. Patisserie Royale combines traditional pastry methods and recipes with the ability to produce large volumes. They work with all clients to ensure, whatever their pâtisserie requirements are, they will be met.

The vision is to continue to build on the success and produce the finest handcrafted artisan products in the industry.
